Safeguarding and well-being Newsletter
October 2026

Welcome to the new academic year

Welcome to our first Safeguarding Newsletter. of this academic year. We wanted to share some of the exciting work taking place across school to support our children's safety, wellbeing and confidence.
Safeguarding is everyone's responsibility, and we are committed to working closely with children, families and staff to create a safe, respectful and supportive environment where every child can thrive.

Changes to Our Safeguarding Team

We are pleased to welcome new members Miss Lubbock and Miss Campbell to our Safeguarding Team. Our expanded team will continue to work together to ensure that safeguarding remains a priority across all aspects of school life.
The team is available to support children and families and works closely with staff and external agencies where appropriate. We will continue to provide regular updates so that parents and carers know who they can approach if they have a concern or need advice.

Our New Safety Squad

The Safety Squad will play an active role in helping to promote a positive and safe school environment. Members will be involved in activities such as corridor duty, helping to encourage safe behaviour and reminding others about the importance of looking after one another.
The children are also getting involved in creating safeguarding and wellbeing posters, helping to ensure that our safety messages are visible and meaningful throughout school.

👖 NSPCC PANTS

We will also be continuing our work around the NSPCC PANTS programme.
PANTS helps children learn simple, age-appropriate messages about keeping themselves safe. It encourages children to understand that:
P – Privates are private
A – Always remember your body belongs to you
N – No means no
T – Talk about secrets that upset you
S – Speak up, someone can help
These important messages are taught sensitively and in an age-appropriate way. We encourage parents and carers to reinforce these conversations at home.
For further information and resources for parents, please visit the NSPCC website.

🗣️ NSPCC Speak Out. Stay Safe.

Our safeguarding programme will also include NSPCC Speak out. Stay safe.
This programme helps children understand what abuse is, recognise when something may not be right and, most importantly, know that they have the right to speak out and seek help.
Children will be encouraged to identify trusted adults and understand that they should continue to tell someone until they are listened to and supported.
Our message to children is simple:
If something doesn't feel right, speak out. There is always someone who can help.

💛 Hello Yellow – 9 October 2026

On Friday 9 October, we will be taking part in Hello Yellow.
This is a wonderful opportunity for our school community to come together and show children that talking about feelings and mental health is important.
Our Safety Squad will be helping to create posters and displays to celebrate the day and promote positive messages about looking after our mental health and supporting one another.
We look forward to seeing lots of yellow around school!

🤝 Working Together

We are proud of the range of safeguarding and wellbeing initiatives taking place across school. However, the most effective safeguarding happens when school and home work together.
Please remember that if you have a concern about a child's safety or wellbeing, however small it may seem, you can speak to a member of our Safeguarding Team.
Thank you for your continued support in helping us create a school where every child feels safe, valued, listened to and supported.
Our children's safety is always our priority.
